Arqiva confirms completion of Digital Switch Over for Beacon Hill transmitter group (West Country region)

Arqiva confirms that the Digital Switch Over process at the Beacon Hill transmitter group in the West Country region has been completed successfully.

All six digital multiplexes are now being transmitted at high power from the main Beacon Hill mast in south Devon, while the three public-service multiplexes are being transmitted for the first time from its 21 dependent relays – Ashburton, Bovey Tracey, Brixham, Buckfastleigh, Chudleigh, Clennon Valley, Coombe, Dartmouth, Edginswell, Halwell, Harbertonford, Hele, Kingskerswell, Liverton, Newton Abbot, Ocombe Valley, Sidmouth, South Brent, Teignmouth, Torquay Town and Totnes.

Following the switch-off of the BBC Two analogue signal on Wednesday 8 April 2009, the remaining analogue signals for BBC One, ITV1 and Channel 4 were switched off at 00:16 on Wednesday 22 April 2009. The digital signals for the D3&4, SDN, BBC B, Arqiva A and Arqiva B multiplexes were switched on at Beacon Hill two hours later at 02:18. All relay sites were transmitting digital TV services by 15:45.

Arqiva is the transmission provider for all terrestrial TV and most radio services in the UK.

six UK digital terrestrial TV multiplexes, enabling major media companies to bring their TV and radio services to Freeview.

Satellite & Media provides global communication platforms to enterprise, government and broadcast customers around the world. It owns and operates teleports at key locations including Los Angeles, Washington, London and Paris, as well as comprehensive satellite capacity, an international terrestrial fibre network and extensive media facilities. These enable Arqiva to provide world leading organisations with a comprehensive range of services to deliver their data, broadcasts and media across the globe.

Wireless Access provides cellular, wireless broadband, voice and data solutions for the mobile communications, public safety, local government, and commercial markets. Arqiva is the largest independent provider of radio sites in the UK and Ireland. With its own spectrum, the company can provide complete mobile communications networks including backhaul links.

Arqiva has its headquarters near Winchester and other major UK offices in London, Warwick, Buckinghamshire and Yorkshire. The company is owned by a consortium of investors led by Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group. Major customers include the BBC, ITV, Channel 4, Five, BSkyB, Classic FM, the five UK mobile operators, the RNLI and the Metropolitan Police.
