

NEWS ALERT

Date: 17 May 2010

Oxford transmitter incident - latest (4pm Monday 17 May)

- Fire on the Oxford mast at Beckley

TV services were returned to full broadcasting power by Thursday 13 May at 11.00 pm and Radio services were restored to full power on Friday May 14th at 5.30 pm.

For the time being, until investigations into the cause of the fire are concluded and until the extent and likely duration of necessary remedial works can be assessed, TV services will continue to be transmitted from the reserve antenna, as has been the case for the last 3 months while essential preparatory works for Digital Switch Over have been taking place.

Arqiva apologises for the ongoing inconvenience caused to viewers in this area.
