

NEWS ALERT

Date: 21 May 2010

Oxford transmitter incident - latest (16.30 Friday 21 May)

- Fire on the Oxford mast at Beckley

It is now clear that the main TV transmitting antenna on the Beckley mast was damaged beyond repair during the fire on 13 May.

A complete replacement antenna is being procured, and this will be installed and commissioned as soon as possible. Meanwhile, TV services from this site will continue to be transmitted from the reserve antenna (as they have been since February this year).

Arqiva apologises for the ongoing inconvenience caused to viewers in this area.
