

Occasional Use: Global Distribution

Arqiva's unique global platform of extensive satellite routes, fibre links and teleport facilities provide complete connectivity across the world. Whether streaming to the internet or distributing data or Standard or High Definition video, Arqiva efficiently delivers your content from all major broadcast points to all major broadcasters.

From international sports, entertainment and news events to corporate communications, our unique multi award winning fibre and satellite network quickly and effectively redistributes your content from SNG or flyaway units, outside broadcasts, studios or satellite to single or multiple broadcast switching centres anywhere in the world. Arqiva's emphasis on security provides full encryption services for your content while 24/7 monitoring of all routes from our international co-located Master Control Rooms ensures the very highest levels of confidence.

Our dedicated experts operate as a single team while working at key locations across the world, with a single point of contact instantly delivering the benefits of our global network – ready to act at short notice anywhere, anytime.

