

Occasional Use: Teleport Services

Arqiva has twice been named 'WTA Teleport Operator of the Year'. It's international infrastructure gives you immediate access to all of the world's major interconnects whenever you need.

Arqiva owns, operates and manages ten international teleports in Los Angeles, Washington, London, Paris and across the UK. These give you access to over 100 earth stations and a range of satellites reaching over 90% of the globe. This is supported by global fibre links to all major cities and interconnects to provide reliable, efficient and secure distribution of your occasional live or tape content. Each international location is manned around the clock by our skilled and experienced teams, ready to provide expert advice and assistance on all aspects of your video and data distribution.

Our award-winning infrastructure and exceptional expertise offers the highest levels of reliability for Occasional Use services across the globe.

